LUNCHEON WILL OPEN MOVEMENT

"One Hundred Committee" Appointed
Last Night, Will Meet First Time in Christian Church Basement.

AT NOON ON JANUARY THIRD

Effort Will be Made to Get Executive Secretary Here to Explain
New Organization.

At the meeting last night in the Methodist church of the interdenominational committee of ten, representing the five churches of the city, which was appointed at the men's mass meeting at the St. Paul M. E. church Sunday afternoon when preparations were made for the introduction of the Men and Religion Forward Movement in this city, the "committee of one hundred" which will conduct the campaign mapped out by the Movement, was appointed.

This committee is known as the "committee of one hundred" wherever the Men and Religion Forward Movement has been established and does not necessarily imply that there are one hundred members. In the local case the committee is composed of seventy-three members, ten from each one of the five churches and twenty-three from the outlying townships and small towns.

It was decided at the meeting last night that the first meeting of the committee of the "committee of one hundred" should be held in the basement of the Main Street Christian church, Wednesday, January third. The meeting will be in the form of a non luncheon and John A. Tittsworth and T. M. Green were appointed as a committee on arrangements for the luncheon.

This first meeting of the "committee of one hundred" will be held for the purpose of acquainting the members of its duties and of the work in general of the Men and Religion Forward Movement. It is hoped to have the noon luncheon as it is conceded he is better acquainted with the work than any other man in Indiana.

The work of the "one hundred committee" as mapped out last night, will be practically the same as that of the similar committee in Indianapolis and other large cities with the exception that it will not be of such a wide scope. There are five distinct and separate committees, composed of two representatives of each of the five churches in the city, within the "one hundred committee."

The five committees are known as the Bible study committee, the evangelism committee, the mission committee, the boys' work committee and the social service committee. In Indianapolis there are eight committees of this nature, five of which are similar to the ones appointed here.

As pointed out by the Indianapolis speakers at the men's mass meeting last Sunday it shall be the duty of the Bible study committee to increase interest in the reading and study of the Bible among men generally. The evangelism committee will work among men and attempt to show them that it is their duty and not the minister's to bring men to Christ. The duty of the mission committee is to increase interest among men in this branch of church work.

The last two committees are considered very important. The committee on boys' work, it is considered, is of vital importance since it is the intent of the Movement to interest boys in the church and bring them into closer contact with the Sunday school. The social service committee is to clean up the morals of the city.

MERCHANTS MEET TONIGHT

To Complete Arrangements For Exercises at Charity Ball.

The regular meeting of the Rushville Retail Merchants' Association will be held in the court house assembly room tonight. Some business of importance is booked for transaction and it is urged that a large number of members attend. Tonight arrangements will be completed for the opening exercises at the annual charity ball to be held at the new factory building New Year's night. The association will have charge of the opening brief program and hope to make it a sort of a good fellowship gathering.

STOLEN OUTFIT IS FOUND NEAR LAUREL

John Warfield Goes There Today to Recover Horse and Buggy Taken
Monday Night.

FOUND HITCHED ALONG ROAD

John Warfield, living northeast of the city, left this morning for Laurel to recover his horse and buggy which was stolen from the hitchrack back of the Knecht clothing store Monday night between eight and eight-thirty o'clock. The outfit was found near Laurel yesterday morning, the horse hitched to a wire fence, and evidently had been there for some time. It appeared that the horse had been driven considerably. Jake Parrish a neighbor of Mr. Warfield's received word from Ed Zachariah, a mail carrier of laurel that a horse and buggy answering the description of Warfield's had been found. Three men in a drunken condition were seen driving a jaded horse in Laurel and they are supposed to be the thieves.

CLUB APPEARS AT SHELBYVILLE TODAY

Indiana University Singers, Now on Tour Are Pleasing Large Audiences at Every Appearance.

WILL BE HERE FRIDAY NIGHT

The Indiana University glee club will appear at the Main Street Christian church Friday night and the ticket sale indicates that the crowd will be large. Tonight the club will give a concert in Shelbyville. They appeared before a large audience in Columbus last night. Byron Cowing, who is a member of the club, has written his father, Joe Cowing, that the club was royally entertained at Jeffersonville last Saturday. So pleased were the people of Jeffersonville with the concert that the club was compelled to sing in the Presbyterian church there at both services Sunday.

The club is declared to be unusually good this year and its fifteenth annual tour promises to be more successful than any in the past. In addition to the chorus there are several soloists and some special numbers such as Don Herold, the artist. He formerly did this act in vaudeville and was given high praise.

WEATHER.

Generally fair tonight and Friday. Expect rain or snow tonight in extreme north portion. Colder Friday.

FARMERSTO HOLD INSTITUTE HERE

Attractive Program is Arranged For Two Days' Session Friday and Saturday, Dec. 29-30.

WILL BE IN ASSEMBLY ROOM

George W. Looney, Jr., Committeeman, Tells of the Many Good Things to be Heard.

One branch of the Rush county farmers' institute will be held in the court house assembly room Friday and Saturday, December 29 and 30. It is urgently requested that a large and representative body of Rush county farmers as well as other interested people be in attendance at the meeting. George W. Looney, Jr., a member of the committee, today gave out the following interview concerning the talent for the institute: "We being an agricultural county almost wholly, and one of the best in the State at that, we should, it seems to me, give this work our heartiest support. Every interest of the county to a very large degree depends on the success or failure of the farmer, in a material way at least.

"Do you know, fellow farmers, of Rush county, that we pay about twelfth of the taxes of the county. Rushville has its 'Big Wednesdays' and why should not the farmers of the county have a 'Big Wednesday,' too.

"We have gone to some expense to get good talent for each institute in the county and I think we are especially fortunate at Rushville. On the first day, Friday, December 29, we will have F. B. Kink, whose subjects will be 'Dry Lot Hog Feeding,' 'Sheep on the Small Farm,' and 'Wintering and Feeding Cattle.' The local veterinarians will give talks on hog cholera, a very timely subject, and there will be plenty of time for asking questions on any of these subjects.

"On Saturday we will have J. B. Burns of Cloverdale, Ind., an extensive farmer, stock feeder and raiser. I heard Mr. Burns at Purdue last summer and was so well pleased with his subjects that I made a special effort to get him for one day at Rushville. Mr. Burns knows much about barnyard manure, how and when to apply it and what it is worth to the farmer in comparison with commercial fertilizer.

"We will have also a man from Chicago, who comes at his own expense. He will tell us some of the things we can do with cement, another timely subject to us farmers, and in fact, to everyone that builds a house, barn, walk or anything requiring a solid foundation.

"These, in the main, are some of the good things we expect to have on these two days and we hope many other good things will grow out of this. Now, fellow farmers, it depends on you by your presence to make this meeting a success. Will you do it?"

ELIJAH MATNEY RETURNS

Disappearance is Temporary and He Will Face Divorce Suit.

Elijah Matney, who disappeared from this city last Friday and whose destination was unknown, returned last evening on the six o'clock C. H. & D. train from the east. It was rumored that Matney left to escape the trial for divorce which was recently filed by his wife, but such was evidently not true as he is back in Noble township.

SANTA FUND IS BOUNDED ALONG

New Record Will be Established This Year as Contributions Roll in at Last Moment.

GIRLS' CANDY EXCHANGE SAT.
Little Charlotte Davis Sells Holly to Help Poor Children—Princess Benefit Tonight.

Previously acknowledged	$138.00
Cash	1.00
Helen N. Matlock	.25
Isabel, Jessie and Ruth Allen	.30
Charlotte Davis	1.60
Cullen Sexton	1.50
Cash	10.00
Box in Republican office	1.15
Total	$147.80

There is little doubt now but that the Daily Republican Santa Claus fund will far overreach the amount contributed last year and this announcement today will doubtless bring joy to the hearts of little youngsters in Rushville who will be visited by the Republican Santa Claus.

Little Charlotte Davis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. H. Davis, sacrificed a lot of time and energy to earn $1.60 to assist in the work of making a merry Christmas for the unfortunate children. She sold little sprigs of holly, neatly tied with red ribbon, for five cents a piece. She did the same thing last year.

The annual candy sale for the fund will be given by a crowd of high school girls who have in past years earned a considerable sum for the good of the cause. They will sell home-made candy Saturday at Maud Reed Wolcott's millinery store. "And we are going to double the amount we made last year," said one of the girls today.

The Princess motion picture benefit show tonight will no doubt make a good sum for the fund. An excellent program is advertised today and there is every reason to believe that the house will be packed at every show.

A tin box whose yawning mouth has been begging small coins in the Daily Republican office for several days was opened today and yielded up $1.15.

Another "good fellow" came across with ten dollars today, but he refused to have his name to be made public.

The wrapping of the bundles will not be started until morning due to the failure of sacks to arrive. Then the work will be under way and everything will be ready for delivery early Monday morning.

SHE ESPOUSES SUFFRAGE CAUSE

Mrs. Laura Leonard, Recently of Posey Township, "Speaks Out in Meetin" in Indianapolis.

TALKS FOR WOMEN'S RIGHTS

Is Given Prominent Mention in Session of Farmers' State Congress of Indiana.

Mrs. Laura B. Leonard, until a few months ago, a resident of Posey township, single handed and alone, espoused the cause of woman suffrage at the annual session of the Farmers' State Congress of Indiana in Indianapolis. Mrs. Leonard was an active institute and temperance worker while she resided in this county and is well known all over the county. She moved from her home near Arlington to Indianapolis only a few months ago. The Indianapolis Sun gives her considerable mention as follows.

This year's session of the Farmers State congress of Indiana will go down in history as the one during which women broke into the organization.

Mrs. Laura B. Leonard, an Indianapolis suffragette and farmers' institute lecturer, under the direction of Purdue university, brought about the innovation single handed and alone. She first attracted the attention of the congress by rising in the rear of the room at the conclusion of the election of officers and inquiring "Is this a man's organization exclusively."

President Strange was taken off his feet for a minute, but quickly recovered and invited Mrs. Leonard to come forward and present her case. He added that he has always recognized the fact that women are interested in the work of the congress.

"We women do a part of the work on the farms," began Mrs. Leonard. "We make the homes. We do the best we can with what you men furnish us. We believe it is only right that every agricultural organization should have women on its governing board. It is not complete without women."

Before the congress adjourned a resolution had been adopted electing Mrs. Leonard first vice president of the congress and giving her authority to name an assistant vice president from each congressional district.

The local option question failed to create as much discussion as was expected and a resolution was adopted declaring saloons a nuisance and should be abolished. Mrs. Leonard made a talk in which she said the liquor traffic will never be abolished until women are permitted to vote.

REPORTS ON ORPHANS' HOME

Superintendent Shows Population of Institution is Increased.

In his annual report the superintendent of the State Soldiers' and Sailors Orphans' home, at Knightstown says, under the act of the recent general assembly to admit the grandchildren of soldiers and sailors to the home, seventy such children had been received. The population of the institution on September 30 was 410, an increase of forty-three over the population for the corresponding date of a year ago, due chiefly to the new law. The per capita cost of the institution was $320.05. The average daily attendance was 310.

MOSCOW WINS TWO GAMES

Independents and High School Teams
Defeat Milroy at Basket Ball.

The two Moscow basket ball teams won a double header from the Milroy teams last night at Moscow. The Milroy high school team went down in defeat before the Moscow high school five by a score of 19 to 25. The Moscow Independents won from the Milroy Eurekas by a score of 31 to 15. The teams will play again Friday night at Milroy.

BELIEVES NEGRO IS PURSE SNATCHER

Indianapolis Police Arrest Charles Williams, Suspected of Attacking Misses Muire and Jennings.

IN INDIANAPOLIS ON NOV. 7

Charles Williams, colored, is under arrest in Indianapolis and has been bound over to the grand jury as a suspect in connection with the robbery, in Indianapolis, of Mrs. Grace Jennings of Indianapolis, well known here, and Miss Minerva Muire of this city, on the night of November 7. The negro was identified by Mrs. Jennings as the man who snatched her purse while she and Miss Muire were walking on Twenty-second street in Indianapolis. Mrs. Jennings is a missionary worker and has conducted meetings in this county. Miss Muire failed to identify the negro. Mrs. Jennings was struck in the face when her purse was snatched. Williams was arrested when he was heard by detectives to say that a certain negro did not have nerve enough to snatch a pocketbook.

CHECK FORGER STILL AT LARGE

Stranger Answering Description of Man Who Worked Here, Gets Busy in Elwood.

IT'S HARNESS DEALER AGAIN

Despite the repeated warnings by the press regarding the check forger who has been cleaning up harness dealers and grocery keepers over the country, the fellow slipped into Elwood and worked a harness dealer and two grocery men, getting about $23 in cash, and made his getaway before the police could get their hands on the fellow. There is little doubt but what he is the same fellow who passed forged checks here and at Morristown recently. He is described as a man of twenty-five years of age and dressed as a farm laborer.

COUNTY COUNCIL CONVENES

Appropriates $350 For New Tax Duplicate Bookcase.

The county council met in the county auditor's office today to make some deficiency appropriations. Among other things they appropriated $350 to buy a new bookcase for tax duplicates kept in the county treasurer's office. This new piece of furniture is necessary because the new duplicates are half again as long as the old ones. The council was in session late this afternoon.

EXPECTED JURY WILL DISAGREE

Failed to Reach a Verdict After Being Out Four Hours in the Beecraft Case.

WILSON'S TRIAL IS STARTED

Evidence Was About Like That of Yesterday—Defendant Was on Stand in Both Cases.

The case of the State vs. Albert Beecraft charged with grand larceny and implicated with Thomas Wilson with stealing furs valued at $80 from Omer and Albert Bowles, went to the jury at eleven o'clock this morning and at a late hour this afternoon they had not agreed on a verdict. The indications are that they will not agree as it is said they asked to come out after three hours' deliberation, and were refused by Judge Blair.

As soon as the Beecraft case had gone to the jury the trial of Wilson was started. The State's case was about the same as that against Beecraft and the same witnesses were used. Wilson took the stand and told exactly the same story as yesterday concerning the robbery. One of the points the defense depended on was that Wilson is a physical wreck and not strong enough to handle a sack of furs as large as that stolen from the Bowles brothers.

Little trouble was had getting a jury to try Wilson and it is for the most part made up of farmers. The crowd today was even larger than yesterday and great interest is being shown as to the outcome of the two cases.

Beecraft took the witness stand late yesterday afternoon in his own defense and his story of the robbery and the events on the evening of Dec. 8, was so different from what his partner, Wilson, had pictured, that it took the court room crowd by surprise. The stories of both men conflict and they insisted on laying the blame on each other.

Beecraft stated that on the night of Dec. 8 he left Wilson at the corner of Second and Perkins street and did not see him again until almost twelve o'clock when Wilson awakened him. Beecraft insisted that it was Wilson who did the job. He said Wilson drove the rig up in front of the barber shop and told him he had stolen the furs. Beecraft claimed that he told Wilson some time before the robbery about the Bowles boys having a nice lot of furs and that Wilson had talked to him about stealing them. His story was just the opposite of Wilson's and he positively denied committing the crime.

Several character witnesses testified that Beecraft had a good reputation for honesty.

The final arguments took place this morning. A. L. Gary and Will M. Sparks spoke for the defense and Wallace Morgan and John Joyce represented the State. According to several attorneys Judge Blair's instructions favored the State, if favorable to either side.

HEAR REMONSTRATORS.

The county commissioners heard remonstrators in the matter of the Robert Gardner drain in Walker township today. There were twelve signatures to the remonstrators and more than that appeared in person before the court today. Late this afternoon the commissioners had not returned a decision.

Hugh McGowan the traction magnate of Indianapolis, who died last Tuesday, began life a poor boy in Missouri and by filling all grades of work with that energy characteristic of so many poor young men, he arose to eminence in the world of business.

Some years ago an Indianapolis newspaper man asked Mr. McGowan for his advice to young men and his reply, characteristic of the successfully self-made man, was—

“Do everything you do, no matter how humble the task, as well as you possibly can and keep on doing so. You will thus attract the attention and the commendation of your superiors. When I was in school, I was always striving for the prize offered for good scholarship. When I was hostler in the street car barns, I curried the mules to the best of my ability. When I was a policeman, I did my duty as well as I possibly could. And so it has gone throughout my life. Some say that there are not the opportunities for young men that there were once. That is wrong, entirely wrong. There are more opportunities. There is more wealth and more business. Therefore, I say to the young men, ‘It is up to you.’

The President of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association, is very emphatic in his denunciation of Chairman Lee. He says:

“Of all the unmitigated asses who ever broke his kicking straps and kicked himself into oblivion Ed M. Lee, for the time Republican State chairman, is the greatest and best specimen.

“Violating all the established ethics of his position, professing to speak for Republicans of a great State and with the certain knowledge that the nomination of Taft for President again is as sure as tomorrow, this self-constituted prophet gives out an interview at Washington that Taft can not carry Indiana.

“The trouble with Mr. Lee is that he thinks the burdens of his own mind are the troubles of Indiana Republicans, but there are not many of us who really care that the President did not give him the appointment he desired. In fact, in view of the recent pronouncement, Indiana Republicans can see the wisdom of the President’s course. Mr. Lee has conferred a favor on the party by automatically eliminating himself from the contest for State chairman. He is impossible now.”

An interesting real estate transaction in Germany gives an idea of the price of land large bulk. The Prince of Schaumburg-Lippe has just sold 100,000 acres of farm and timber land to a syndicate for $10,000,000—an average price of $100 an acre. The land is a part of one of those principalities, in which the reigning prince is also the sole owner of the real estate, and one of those diminutive countries, where so many novels are vaguely laid, such as “Graustark.”

All over the State condemnation of the former Lawrenceburg embalmer who turned Republican State headquarters into a morgue last year is well high universal among Republicans, making the usual allowance for the soreheadism that is prevalent in every community.

The Republican State Central committee has been called to meet Wednesday, December 27.

PEOPLE’S COLUMN.

Editor Republican:
The Republican Party is Not a Party of Prohibition.

Stripped of all verbiage and innuendo very little argument on the subject under discussion is left in the communication of “Sam Saplington.” The fact still remains that the radical temperance people of both the Republican and Democratic party, urged on by Prohibitionists and anti-saloon leaguers, are trying to burden the Republican party with the State-wide prohibition question.

Just why the Republican party is always singled out to enact radical temperance legislation has already been a mystery. The fight of the Prohibition party is always directed solely against the Republican party. The Democratic party, we presume, is regarded by them as a hopeless case.

If Sam Saplington has been a Republican for the past twenty-five years he certainly should know by past experience that whenever the Republican party proposed radical temperance legislation it always lost out at the polls.

The Republican party in this State lost entire control by reason of advocating and establishing county option and of re-affirming it in a subsequent platform. A majority of the people demonstrated they did not want county option after the two years trial. That fact is patent, even if Sam Saplington can not see it.

The people tried county option two years ago and on that straight issue as laid down in the Democratic platform and advocated by Democratic speakers and newspapers throughout the State, by an overwhelming majority commissioned the Democrats to repeal county option. This they did and substituted township and city option and this plan is now undergoing its trial.

The people at this time have what they voted for. The voters repudiated the Republican plan and the Republican party for adopting and re-advocating county option, so why should the Republican party and its candidates be subjected to another Waterloo by forcing the party to again take the stand in an even more radical form, which so recently led to defeat?

There is a party long established in Indiana—the Prohibition party—whose only purpose is to fight the liquor question and that is the party that should be expected to endorse and struggle for purely liquor issues. When such a party is in existence it is unreasonable to foist such an issue on the Republican party and thus place in jeopardy questions of equal if not of paramount importance.

The recent so-called omni-partisan temperance meeting at Indianapolis, to which Sam Saplington so proudly alludes, was in fact the Anti-saloon League and the Prohibition party, reinforced by a few zealous Republicans and fewer zealous Democrats, meeting under a new guise. The outcome of the meeting shows, as was expected, that the Republican party was again selected to be the “goat” on the temperance question, and it will be made such if the rank and file of the party will submit, as has been done frequently in the past. The full quota of Democratic State officers and a legislature strongly Democratic attests to the ignominy brought to the Republican party by reason of having been made the temperance “goat” in recent times.

We can do no better than to quote what the Lafayette Journal has to say on this subject, as published in last Sunday’s Star. The Journal is one of the prominent Republican papers in the State, published in Hanly’s home city, and if we remember correctly, it was the paper that first announced Hanly’s gubernatorial candidacy. The Journal says:

“A few days ago men of all parties met at Indianapolis and held a convention which was designed to influence the political program of the State. This meeting was founded on the idea that prohibition is the paramount issue—that it is the great question. Other questions that may concern the people are held subservient to this one issue. In this meeting J. Frank Hanly, former Governor and professional temperance advocate, was the central figure. Now the Journal has no disposition to discourage or discount any honest movement that seeks to extend the cause of temperance. But this recent meeting has a political significance that should be given attention.

“This convention was advertised as a meeting of temperance workers from all parties. But in the deliberations the Republican party was named as the one that should make the fight; the expression of the convention was really an ultimatum to the Republican party. And the Republican party has hanging over its head the threat that unless it indorses the county option idea and subscribes to the principle of statewide prohibition it will be punished in the first instance and have an independent party opposing it in the second. The attitude of the Democratic party is well understood; any effort to make it seem that the Democratic party may indorse county option is political bunscombe.

“The proceedings of this convention, boiled down mean a movement to force the Republican party into an indorsement of the county option principle. This movement is encouraged by Democrats who are not indifferent to party, as was indicated by the slaughter of the Republican ticket after the party had enacted a county option law. And it is also contained in the proceedings that prohibition is the real purpose. Just why the Republican party should be asked to espouse prohibition is not apparent; there is a party dedicated to that principle.

“The Republican party is not a party of prohibition and when an effort is made to make it appear as such the conclusion is forced that the party is being used for political purposes. The Republican party has been consistent as the party of temperance and good government, but it has never made appeal as a prohibition party. The fallacy of prohibition has been proved in Iowa, Maine and Indiana. Those who believe in the prohibition principle have a party that bids them welcome. But why should the Republican party be used as a political sacrifice?”

AMUSEMENTS

A special program has been arranged tonight at the Palace theater for the benefit show given for Mahoning Council No. 36, D. of P. A feature Thanouser picture, "The Declaration of Independence" will be shown. The picture is taken from the famous historical story of the signing of the declaration of independence and is said to be a most remarkable picture. The other film is a great western drama entitled "The Noble Redman." Mr. Sells and Mr. Biddle will sing the two songs. Matinees will be given tomorrow, Saturday and Christmas afternoons, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

The Portola will show the usual two reels of pictures tonight. As an added attraction Charles VanCamp will sing "The Evening Prayer" which was written by Nightwatchman Thomas Seanlan. This will be the first public hearing of the song, which is said to be very beautiful. The first picture, "The Stage Driver's Daughter" is a thrilling western drama. "Mae's Suitors" is a comedy. Friday and Saturday, December 29 and 30, "The Tale of Two Cities" will be the attraction.

The Princess theater offers an excellent program for the benefit show for the Daily Republican fund. "The Adventures of Billy," a Biograph drama, is suggested by newspaper comment on the tramp evil and it was thought in producing it that the common evil might be alleviated to some extent. Billy, a bootblack, finding luck against him, starts out to trudge to the next town and falls in with two sinister looking tramps. They force him to beg for them and later in robbing an old man, the tramps throw him to the ground and he is killed. Realizing that Billy knows of the murder the two tramps decided to get rid of him and his life is saved in a very unique manner by a pet dog. "The Strike at the 'Little Jonny' Mine" is a thrilling western drama in which Jim Logan, a miner, refuses to join the strikers but who consents to act as spokesman for the strikers. For this offense he is dismissed by the mine owners, but he refuses to take part in the act of violence. Jim's wife plays an important part in the future developments.

The Shubert-Murat Theatre in Indianapolis has for its Holiday Attraction Wm. Hodge in "The Man From Home," opening with two performances on Christmas Day and continuing during the Holiday season. It is scarcely necessary to introduce "The Man From Home" to Indiana people. It is the work of one of Indiana's most popular authors, Booth Tarkington, in collaboration with Harry Leon Wilson and the character played and made famous by Wm. Hodge is a young Indiana lawyer of Kokomo and his name is Daniel Voorhees Pike. "The Man From Home" was first produced more than four years ago. Its success was immediate and it was at once recognized by the general public and acclaimed by critics as one of the very best plays ever written by American authors. In Chicago it played an entire season. It was then taken to New York and presented at the Astor Theater where it remained for seventy weeks. In Boston its run of twenty-seven weeks broke all records in that city.

Mr. Hodge is now making his first general tour of the country in this play and the coming engagement at the Shubert-Murat will mark the first showing of the play in Indianapolis and already, it is reported, large theatre parties are being formed in many cities of the state to visit the Theater during the engagement. The Shubert-Murat box office has arranged to take especial care of all mail orders, sent, as it is felt that this attraction is far away from the ordinary ones and will awaken interest all over the State. Liebler and Company have given Mr. Hodge and aid of the best company that could be engaged and the production is one of the finest ever shown in staging a dramatic performance.

Particularly the Ladies.

Not only pleasant and refreshing to the taste, but gently cleansing and sweetening to the system, Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna is particularly adapted to ladies and children, and beneficial in all cases in which a wholesome, strengthening and effective laxative should be used. It is perfectly safe at all times and dispels colds, headaches and the pains caused by indigestion and constipation so promptly and effectively that it is the one perfect family laxative which gives satisfaction to all and is recommended by millions of families who have used it and who have personal knowledge of its excellence.

Its wonderful popularity, however, has led unscrupulous dealers to offer imitations which act unsatisfactorily. Therefore, when buying, to get its beneficial effects, always note the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package of the genuine Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna.

'Tis the week before Xmas
But that's nix-come-arouse
Our family washing
Was not done in the house
Everything is tidy
And everything is neat.
We have nothing to worry,
Our temper is sweet.
We don't have to dig in
And scrub all the week
To prepare for old Santa's
Annual peek.
He will find us all ready
When e're he appears.
We will not be behind
As in former years.
Times are progressing,
We are glad this to hear

Even Santa rides an airship
Instead of a deer.
So we dare not be slothful
But quick and alert,
We are standing here ready,
Clean, sweet, free from dirt.
Old Santa will welcome
The sight that he sees.
He will ask many questions
"Oh, tell, won't you please?"
"Why is it that mamma
Is not tired and worn out?"
"Why is it my papa
Don't groan 'bout his gout?"
The reason is just this
For the change that you see,
We now send our washing
To a Sanitary Laundree.

Some Things That The Wee, Small Kiddies Can Make For Christmas Presents

If you will set the children to making simple little gifts while you are fashioning fluffy, frilly do-dads, all lace and ribbons, it will not only be the valuable means of keeping them busy, but it will infuse them with the spirit of giving, which we are forgetting that in our own generosity we are likely to make the children greedy little gift-takers, robbed of the very essence of the Christmas spirit.

Small son will think, first of all of daddy, perhaps, to whom he should like to present some small gifts, as man to man. By winding a stick about twelve inches long—the handle of a small broom would answer nicely—with red ribbon about three-quarters of an inch wide, which is securely tacked at each end, and finishing it at each end with bows and a loop to suspend it by, he can make a necktie rack that will be a real convenience.

If he is old enough to whittle, even crudely, with a little help he could make a doll's cradle for sister, from a couple of cigar boxes, one with the cover removed, serving as the cradle, the other being used for the rockers, to which the box is glued.

A clipping case is easily made with six Manila envelopes. Through the two bottom corners of the envelopes holes must be punched large enough to pass a ribbon through, which is tied in a little bow on the upper side. Suspender rings should be attached to the outer envelopes at the top near the edge, and ribbon run through these to hold the envelopes in the place.

Book marks may be made in infinite variety, with the help of postcards bearing some sort of animal head. Water color paper, or thin cardboard should be cut in strips four inches long, rounding into a half circle at the top about an inch and a half in diameter (smaller, of course, if the heads to be used are small, because the head must cover all of this portion) and tapering down to rounded corners at the bottom.

The animal's head cut from the postcard is pasted over the top, and a triangular slit cut just below it, point down, so that it will slip over the page of a book easily.

A dozen blotters with a calendar for each month pasted in the corner would be a very acceptable accessory for the desk. An eye-glass polisher of chamis pieces about the size of a tumbler bottom, pinked about the edges with sharp scissors, and fastened through the center with a bow of holly ribbon could be made by the smallest fingers.

Sister will love to make a dainty satchel of fringed ribbon, and bit of Dresden ribbons may be whipped together about the edges by her tiny awkward fingers that will delight some fond aunt, even if the satchel all leaks out.

Many handy little articles may be made after a paper pattern of a Christmas bell—blotters, the top one of leatherette, tied at the top with bright ribbon—match scratchers of sand paper, that may be tied with ribbon or laced about the edges with raffia, leaving a loop at the top to hang the bell up by and needle books with flannel leaves and silk covers. An older child may make a telephone pad by covering a heavy piece of cardboard with canvas or cretonne, allowing enough around the edges so that the material may be turned over for half inch and glued down. The back should then be covered with wrapping paper, neatly pasted on, a pencil attached to the corner by a ribbon, and a ruled sheet of card pasted in the center of the board for the numbers.

SENDS PERSONAL LETTERS

Congressman Gray Offers Free Bulletins to Voters of County.

Voters of the city and county have for the last few days received personal letters from Finly H. Gray, congressman from the Sixth district, in which he informs his constituents of his willingness to send them at least six of the large number of bulletins which the government has issued. Mr. Gray explains that he is not sending the government publications promiscuously, but wants to know the preference of the recipients. The bulletins cover a wide range of reading material from household hints to women to farm methods and ways of killing the English sparrow. A list of the bulletins is included in the letter which Congressman Gray has mailed.

New Castle Courier: The jury in the appeal of the Pennsylvania lines from the judgment of the appraisers in the condemnation proceedings against W. C. Brosius, the Knights-town poultry dealer, returned a verdict allowing Brosius damages to the extent of $500. The damages allowed by the appraisers was $1824.

FRIEND OR FOE?
You are either helping tuberculosis kill 5000 people in Indiana each year—or you are opposing and resisting this annual sacrifice.
You are on one side or the other!
If you are merely passive, inactive, indifferent, or neglectful you are helping tuberculosis claim its victims.
Tuberculosis lives only through our inactivity, indifference and neglect and for the same reasons 5000 die in Indiana each year!
The minute people awake to the danger and menace of tuberculosis—then in that minute the danger is over!
A people alert and active, resentful and willing to fight can drive this death septr from their midst.
Tuberculosis can be checked, prevented and cured. Red Cross Christmas seals money will be devoted to the purposes in Indiana.
If you buy Red Cross Christmas seals today, you declare yourself against the annual sacrifice of 5,000 lives do your part to prevent it.
If through neglect or indifference, you do not buy these seals, tuberculosis can count you a friend and silly.

SATURDAY TO BE RED CROSS DAY

It is Proposed to Attempt to Sell Every Person in Indiana a Seal on That Day.

PLACE STATE IN FRONT RANK

Every Man, Woman and Child is Urged to Display Red Cross Seal Saturday.

Saturday will be Red Cross Christmas Seal Day throughout Indiana. This announcement was made today by the State sales manager at the headquarters in the postoffice building at Indianapolis.

The purpose is to interest every man, woman and child in Indiana to buy at least one seal on Saturday, in order that the campaign may close with an impetus which will place Indiana in the front rank of States selling the largest number of seals this season.

In order to make Red Cross Christmas Seal day a thorough success, every person in this community is urged to carry a card or small sheet of paper to which has been affixed a Red Cross Christmas Seal. This should be displayed all day Saturday by tying or pinning to coat lapels and dresses.

It is also urged that every man and woman who is interested in reducing the number of deaths by tuberculosis, from the usual harvest of 5,000 which this dread disease garners in Indiana each year, will obtain a small supply of the seals, which they will help to sell to all persons failing to wear one of the seals.

It is also requested that those in charge of the sale of seals shall keep an accurate record of the Saturday sales in order that announcement may be made of the result of the special effort. It is believed that Indiana will be enabled to report the largest sale of seals ever made in any State on one day. It has been promised that Indiana would sell at least one million five hundred thousand seals this season, and this figure has not yet been reached.

There are thousands of unsold seals in the hands of agents here and elsewhere, and the designation of Saturday as a special day for the whole public to participate, will assist the agents in their desire to avoid returning any unsold seals to the State headquarters.

BAD COINS APPEAR IN HOLIDAY TIMES

Spurious Nickels Come to Surface During Rush Hours in Stores in Other Cities.

A WARNING TO MERCHANTS

Confident with the holiday trade, spurious nickels have made their appearance in numerous surrounding cities. In the rush of Christmas traffic counterfeit coin is generally shoved out, and this year is no exception to the rule. The police believe the nickels have been put in circulation as a feeler, and that coin of larger denomination may come later in the event the parties engaged in the work are not trapped.

The police department of different cities have sounded a general warning to merchants, for enough of the home-made nickels have come to the surface during the past week to indicate an organized effort to get rid of the bad coin. The counterfeit is a good imitation of the genuine, so much so that a busy clerk, who fails to notice the money taken in could be readily "stung." As yet none of the coin in larger denominations has come to the surface, but there is reason to believe it will yet be passed out unless merchants are on the alert.

WILL EXPEDITE XMAS DELIVERY

Pennsylvania Lines Will Assist Postoffice Department Car Service Sunday Before Christmas.

CONFIRMED TO MAIL TRAINS

Special Rule on This Occasion Will Apply on Local Division as Well as Others.

A special effort is being made by the postoffice department to expedite the delivery of Christmas presents so that they will reach the recipients on Christmas morning, and one of the chief difficulties to be overcome is the fact that this year the day before Christmas is Sunday, a legal holiday.

The transportation and distribution of mail on Sunday is confined largely to the mail trains carrying full railway postoffice cars between the larger cities of the east and west; what is known as railway postoffice department car service, reaching many of the less important cities and towns on the main lines and branches, being discontinued on that day.

To assist the department in its effort to accommodate the public, the Pennsylvania lines, together with some of the other railroads, have agreed to perform railway postoffice apartment car service on several of their lines on the Sunday before Christmas. On the Pennsylvania lines this service will be between Pittsburgh and St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Steubenville and Wheeling, Cleveland and Columbus, Columbus and Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville, and Richmond and Madison.

Under their contract with the government and railroads are not required to perform railroad postoffice apartment car service on Sunday, and the special service Sunday, December 24, will be performed by them gratuitously in an endeavor to assist, as far as they consistently can.

in expediting the delivery of Christmas packages.

The southbound train due here at 3:20 p. m. and the northbound due at 10:30 a. m. will be operated Sunday only and will carry postoffice cars.

TO BUILD WAITING ROOM

Addition Will be Erected to Pennsylvania Station.

Work was started yesterday on a new women's waiting room at the local Pennsylvania station. The addition will be built on the west side adjoining the present waiting room. It is planned to make the room modern throughout. It is taken from this that the State Railroad Commission will not order a new depot here and according to local officials of the railroad, the repairs are in a way temporary as the company will erect a new station in time. The additional room will give better facilities to the traveling public and will be the next best thing to a new depot.

5 LOG SCHOOL HOUSES LEFT

But 72 in Rush County Are All of Modern Type.

According to statistics compiled in the office of Charles Greathouse, State superintendent of public instruction, there are seventy-two school houses in Rush county, most of which are modern and up-to-date buildings. The report reveals the fact that the old-fashioned log school house is gradually disappearing from Indiana's educational life. There are just five remaining in the State and they are located as follows: One in Davies county, two in Clark, one in Dubois and one in Harrison.
